

Mini-Marathon Road Closures graphic

The headline of the graphic reads, "Closed Campus Streets." The headline is on top of a photograph of New York Street, near Eskenazi Hall on IUPUI's campus.

The subhead, also atop the New York Street photograph, reads "Preparation for the 500 Festival Mini-Marathon will cause campus road closures on Friday, May 5, and Saturday, May 6."

Dividing the top of the graphic with the middle is an illustration of a road.

Underneath the road illustration is a sub-headline of the blurb that reads "What to Expect." Next to the sub-headline, is another photo of New York Street on IUPUI's campus with a car driving along it.

Underneath the sub-headline are four bullet points:

- The first point reads "Campus traffic will be affected starting at 6 p.m. Friday. To the left of the text is a stoplight icon."
- The second point reads "Closures and congestion will continue through 4 p.m. Saturday. To the left of the text is a traffic cone icon."
- The third point reads "New York Street will be closed from White River Parkway to West Street from 5:30 a.m. to 4 p.m. Saturday. Also, no vehicles can cross New York Street during this time. Police will make no exceptions. To the left of the text is an outline of three automobiles."
- The fourth point reads "New York Street will close from University Boulevard to West Street at 6 p.m. Friday and will remain closed until 4 p.m. Saturday. To the left of the text is a stop sign icon."

Dividing the middle of the graphic with the bottom is an illustration of a road.

Underneath the road illustration is another photograph of New York Street along IUPUI's campus. A blurb is atop the photo that reads "IUPUI staff, students, faculty and visitors who need access to buildings south of New York Street (such as Herron, NIFS and the Natatorium) are encouraged to park in the Vermont Street garage, Barnhill garage and surface lots."

Underneath the photograph is the IUPUI logo along with a reminder to follow IUPUI on social media, with the Facebook and Twitter icon. IUPUI's social media handles are @IUPUI.
