

IU Bloomington Winter Commencement 2019 graphic

This red graphic with white lettering starts with a header reading: "IU Bloomington Winter Commencement 2019." Below that, a smaller header reads: "By the numbers." Three white snowflakes run down each side of this text.

Below that, there are four white circles connected horizontally by a single white line.

The first white circle to the left has an icon of a diploma. Under that reads: "1,963 degrees being granted."

The second white circle has an icon of a person wearing a cap and gown, holding a diploma. Under that reads: "62, age of oldest graduating student."

The third white circle has an icon of another person wearing a cap and gown, holding a diploma. Under that reads: "20, age of youngest graduating student."

The fourth white circle has an icon of a laptop computer. Under that reads: "131 Kelley Direct Online MBA degrees awarded."

Next is a smaller header that reads: "Graduates represent:"

Below that are three white circles connected horizontally by a single white line.

The first white circle to the left has an icon of a globe. Under that reads: "51 countries."

The second white circle has an icon of the United States. Under that reads: "44 states."

The third white circle has an icon of the state of Indiana. Under that reads: "74 Indiana counties."

At the bottom of the graphic is a red IU trident in a white box.
