

Indiana University Commencement 2017

The headline of the graphic reads, “Counting the Numbers of Commencement 2017” with an Indiana University logo to the left of the text, and an image of a diploma to the right of the text.

Beneath the headline is a rectangular panel with three numeric statistics totaling the number of degrees that will be granted in 2017 including 18,937 IU degrees, 1,594 Purdue degrees, and 20,531 total degrees earned. Each of the statistics is overlaid on an image of a graduation cap.

Underneath the rectangular panel includes a section of three more statistics including the following:

- There are 26 sets of twins graduating. To the right of the text is a silhouette/icon of two graduating individuals with graduation caps on.
- The oldest graduating student is 72-years-old. To the right of the text is a silhouette/icon of a female graduate holding a diploma and wearing a graduation cap and gown.
- The youngest graduating student is 19-years-old. To the right of the text is a silhouette/icon of a female graduate holding a diploma and wearing a graduation cap and gown.

Each of the three statistics is divided by a thin, dotted line.

Below the second section of statistics, is a panel that reports the most popular degrees being granted at the 2017 ceremony. The headline of the panel reads “most popular degrees.” Underneath the headline are two statistics that report:

- 2,774 Bachelor of Arts degrees with 435 psychology majors. To the right of the text is a silhouette/icon of a brain.
- 2,524 Bachelor of Science degrees in business with 694 finance majors. To the right of the text is an icon of a dollar sign.

The bottom section of the graphic includes information about the number of countries that IU graduates are from. It is illustrated by an outline of the seven continents with a statistic that reads “133 number of countries represented”, overlaid on top of the continents icon.

Beneath the last section of the graphic is an Indiana University logo in the bottom left corner, and a website URL in the bottom right corner for more information about Indiana University’s commencement. The URL is commencement.iu.edu.
